They may have responsibility for supervision of volunteers or other staff.

Under the Education and Care Services National Law (2011) the Australian Children's Education and Care Quality Authority (ACECQA) publishes lists of approved early childhood education and care qualifications and information regarding regulatory requirements here: www.acecqa.gov.au

This qualification is delivered by Child Australia through a partnering arrangement with GTNT Training.

How will you learn?

The program is delivered over 16 months with rolling workshops held monthly. These workshops can be attended by all students more than once. We understand that some students may have availability constraints, we as trainers will provide alternative training time frames that are agreed on between the student and the trainer.

Students are required to work full time or part time (min 15 hours per week) in a registered Early Childhood Education and Care Service. The delivery will consist of online self paced structured learning and assessment activities through Catapult. Practical skills will be overserved in the workplace.

Students are required to complete a logbook that requires 240 hours of work placement, which your trainer will provide information and instructions. Students have a set date for completion of assessments. We take into consideration individual learners abilities and as such additional time will be provided and negotiated.

Students are required to complete a workplace journal of there weekly/monthly work activities. Your trainer will provide information and instructions.

Alice Springs delivery variances include: 3 x 2 hour evening workshops over a week on a monthly visit.

This course is offered through a recognition pathway. Your learning has occurred over your years of working in a role which reflect the units of competency.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

RPL is an assessment process that involves assessment of an individual's relevant prior learning (including formal, informal and non-formal learning) to determine the credit outcomes of an individual application for credit. We will work with students to identify any relevant existing skills and knowledge they may have to determine their eligibility for recognition for any components of the qualification which may save time and avoid unnecessary duplication of training.

From 1 January 2015, all students participating in Nationally Recognised Training in Australia will need to have a Unique Student Identifier, or USI. This includes students completing an apprenticeship, skill set, and certificate or diploma course. Your results will be available in your USI account.

When applying for a job or enrolling in further study, you will often need to provide your training records and results. One of the main benefits of the USI is that you will have easy access to your training records and results throughout your life.
